"May the Fruit of Every Season be the Reward of Our Diligence."

The Class of 1963

presents its

Compass

Foreword

We, the class of 1963, leave Grafton High School with a bit of sorrow in our hearts. From the moment we entered until the present, everyone made wonderful friends, obtained a well-rounded education, shared rich experiences with one another and spent these few short years doing wonderful things which will never be repeated.

Each season brought new activities and new experiences.

The Fall—a testing period; the beginning of a new year.

The Winter—a period when we were on our way and knew where we were heading.

The Spring—It is time to leave; it is time to grieve.

We look back; our time was well spent. We wish to thank all those who made our high school days most rewarding and beneficial and we hope Grafton High will live on, forever.

Dedication

As our four years of high school at Grafton have swiftly passed and the seasons come and gone in rapid succession, we, as students could not help but notice and appreciate the untiring efforts and guidance of a teacher and friend who in every way exemplifies fine character, perseverance, and school spirit. Through this unselfish devotion Grafton has obtained well-earned recognition for its loyalty, leadership, and good sportsmanship.

Thus, we, the members of the Senior class, proudly dedicate our 1963 COMPASS to COACH THOMAS E. BLACKBURN.

Class of '63

Underclassmen

Junior Class

PRESIDENT
Rosemary LaDuke
VICE-PRESIDENT
Mike Wenc

SECRETARY
Nancy Wood
TREASURER
Elizabeth Burns

As we depart from the familiar realms of Grafton High, it is to you, juniors, we turn over the responsibility and leadership. A capable and enthusiastic class, we feel assured that you will be the guiding light, the true and forceful leaders, of the underclassmen.

Having shared many wonderful experiences together, it is you we leave with most regret. With you go our fondest hopes for success and happiness in high school and a future bright with knowledge and rich with prosperity.

Sophomore Class

PRESIDENT
Judith Henault
VICE-PRESIDENT
Leonard Buck

SECRETARY
Evelyn Guillette
TREASURER
Jane Mongeau

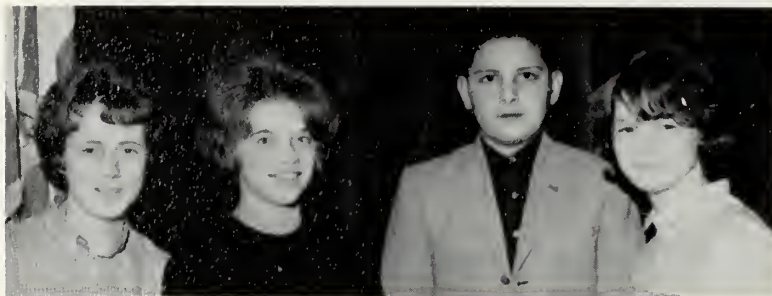

Now at the half-way point of your high school career, you, the sophomores, have thus far proven yourselves to be a capable and determined class. You have displayed marked ambition and the ability to accept responsibility. From sponsoring your first dance and class trip, you have derived the thrill of being truly on your own.

In your remaining years at Grafton High School you will work hard, but gain satisfaction and a feeling of accomplishment. We know, that just as we have done, you will look back with pride at your four years at Grafton High.

Freshman Class

PRESIDENT
George Moore
VICE-PRESIDENT
Margaret Nichols

SECRETARY
Gail Lacilla
TREASURER
Patricia Henault

As our four years at Grafton High School draw to a close, our thoughts now turn to you. As freshmen, you are just beginning a wonderful and glorious quest for knowledge which will open countless doors, as it has done for us. True, the way is not always smooth; but the rewards are many and great.

As the years pass, you will gain an abundance of knowledge and life-long friends, and you will share many wonderful experiences with each other.

We wish to leave you with this one thought, "Hold your ambitions high, mold your character strong, and you will hold the secret to success."

"On cloud nine."

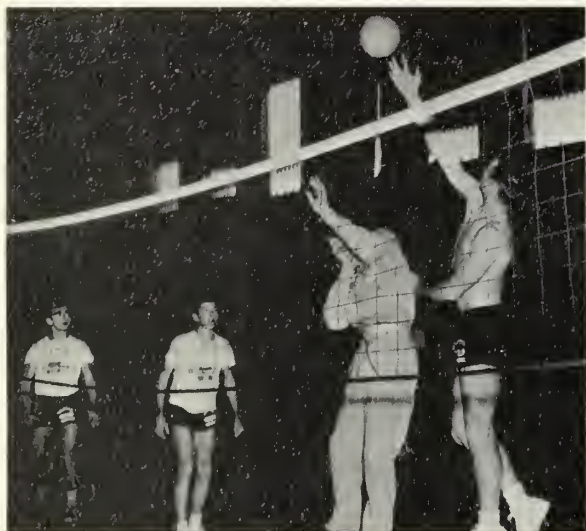

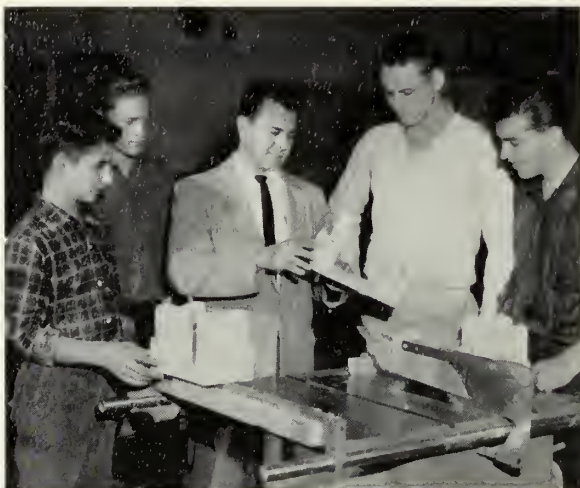

Remember

When Dave Moore was so hungry he ate his pen . . . when Norman Taft played hide-and-seek in Mr. Schlosser's closet . . . the Declaration of Independence and the coup d'état in Mr. Schlosser's U.S. history class . . . when Joe Kelly put the supposedly dead bee down Nancy Perkins' back . . . the Latin Banquet and all the delicious food . . . the time when Miss Miner was locked out of her English III-A class . . . that blush of a certain language teacher . . . that horrible smell of carbon disulfide in the chem lab . . . the typing class when Mrs. Temple found a rat in her desk . . . all the trouble the girls went through in getting signatures for the girls' basketball petition . . . the omelet á la clapboard . . . Cheryl Boucher's little rabbits, Dixie and Pixie, and the accident that happened on Miss Droney's desk . . . the tacks which some people managed to sit on . . . those studies with Mr. Sturtivant . . . that famous saying of Mr. Kimball's, "I beg to differ with you" . . . when Margaret O'Brien and Sharon Page were thrown into Pratt's Pond . . . Betty Toman's "wild" parties . . . those rides back from Ocean Beach Park . . . the "twist" at our dances . . . and the limbo . . . Miss Miner's 2:15 club . . . the "Three Stooges" in Junior English class . . . when John Murphy heated the flammable carbon disulfide in chem lab . . . Remember . . . yes, we'll always remember!

"Now, how do I get out of it?"

"And then you press this button and it turns into a model airplane."

"Okay, who put the magnet on the ceiling?"

"You see? I told you there wasn't a rabbit in there."

"Yes, this is Grafton High—a fond memory forever."

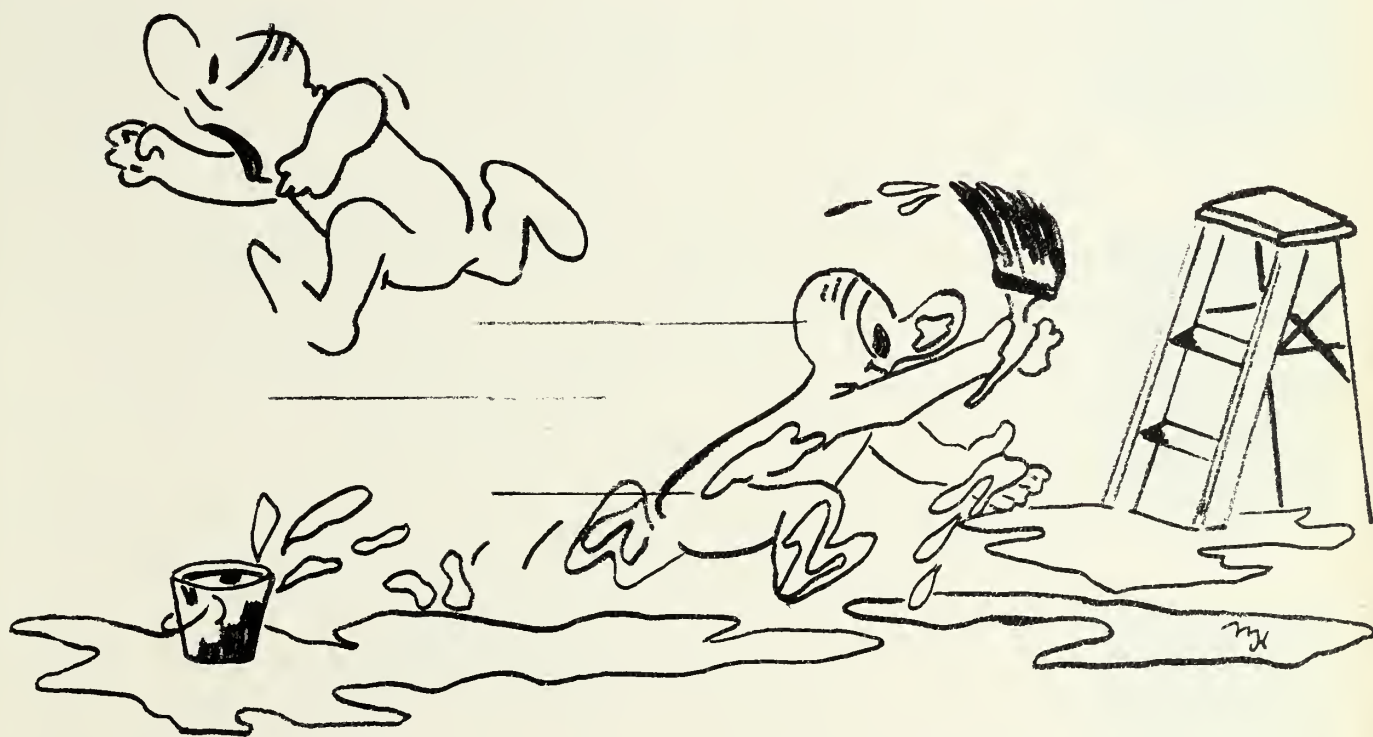

"No, the machine doesn't have a thumb release."
